

Phone Lanyard Crossbody

USB-C Braided cable lace 60cm

60W

The Link Crossbody Braided Cable is a versatile and durable wearable USB-C lanyard designed to keep your device always within reach. Combining functionality and style, it works as both a charging cable and crossbody strap. With 60W fast charging support, it ensures efficient power delivery for smartphones and other USB-C devices. The hidden USB-C connectors are seamlessly integrated into the design for a clean and practical look. Made from strong braided material, it offers enhanced durability for everyday use. The product also includes a universal phone clip system (2 clips), allowing secure attachment to your device for hands-free carrying and charging.
